Not illustrated. 1875 Excerpt: .march, conducts the right of his division about three yards to the front; the division then changes direction to the right, its guide marching parallel to the first division; the chief halts in his own person in front of the left guide of the first division, and, when his division has nearly marched past him, commands: 1. (Such) division, 2. Fours left, 3. March, 4. Division, b. Halt. The command march is given the instant the left file is in front of the left file of the first division; the captain then posts his left guide six yards in front of and facing the left guide of the first division, and dresses his division to the left. The other divisions wheel by fours to the right, incline to the left, enter the column, and are dressed to the left, as explained for the second. The field-officer of the right wing places himself in rear of the guides as they successively arrive, and, having rectified their positions, takes his post in column. The movement ended, the colonel commands: 1. Guides, 2. Arout, 3. Facr. 476. Whenever the ployment is in front of the designated division, the guides face to the rear, and the movement is terminated by the commands: 1. Guides, 2. Arout, 3. Face. This rule is general. 477. The close column is formed on the fifth division, left or right in front, by similar commands and means. The divisions are dressed to the right. The...
