SERVICE AND REGULATORY ANNOUNCEMENTS: JANUARY-DECEMBER 1953 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Service and Regulatory Announcements: January-December 1953 The new order also rescinds restrictions on importation of cottonseed oil from Mexico. Such oil as now refined and handled no longer constitutes a possible carrier of insect infestation. The revision of these cotton regulations includes as an additional basis for quarantine the hazard of introducing the golden nematode of potatoes and the ?ag smut disease of wheat in covers used for imported commodities. Previous orders were imposed solely as a safeguard against the entry of the pink bollworm of cotton. Conditional importation of unfumigated cotton and cotton products will be allowed when such products are destined to a mill or plant approved by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Before approval, a mill or plant will be required to agree to utilize the products in a manner to eliminate all possibility of pest introduction. Another change relates to unfumigated cotton restricted solely because of the pink bollworm. When such cotton has been stored in non-cotton growing areas of the United States for 18 months, it may be released without further treatment. Most of the changes have been made to conform to cotton handling practices or to accumulated knowledge of risk of pest introduction involved in various import practices.
