The pleasure of reading the wonderful stories of the Arabian Nights is in large part the result of the stimulation that comes to the imagination and leaves us trying to picture what we would do had we Aladdin s lamp or did we know the magic password to hiding places of untold treasures, gold, sapphires, pearls and rubies. In the same way the stories of the blood-thirsty buccaneers of the Spanish Main leave, beside their interest as yarns of breathless action, a haunting feeling that there must be treasure to be found and that this possibility lends a certain excitement to life s chances. Of course this feeling, which is so strong upon us when we finish reading one of these tales of adventure in the quiet of the evening, is apt to fade after a sleep, and in the light of the morning the romance seems to vanish; but down in our hearts we always have with us that longing that makes us treasure-hunters. While all mankind has always longed for such powers, a few have gone treasure-hunting. They have sought to read the riddle of the code, to learn which has meant controlling the forces...
